

XVI European Congress of Psychology
Moscow, Russia
2019

Date 20.03.2019 №314089-br

Dear Khristo Iordanov,

I, on behalf of the European Federation of Psychologists' Association (EFPA) and the Russian Psychological Society (RPS), am privileged to invite you to participate in the 16th European Congress of Psychology (ECP2019), which will be held in Moscow, Russia, from the 2nd to the 5th of July 2019. It is our mission for Congressional Psychologists to create a better future together. In support of this mission, we wish to unite psychologists from various fields of interest; social workers, educators, policy makers, and anyone who is interested in psychology from as many countries as possible. We hope that this rich environment will facilitate productive dialogue and fruitful collaboration among colleagues and like-minded professionals.

In order to achieve this goal we invite to you, to share your research "The report focuses on a little-studied aspect of the clinical psychology – the psychological characteristics and the experiences of people with chronic mental illness. It clarifies the essence of the concept of "safeguards", its basic parameters and characteristics." (as a poster), with a broader audience, considering that the scientific program is expected to be in English and translated simultaneously into Russian, and that the Congress is expected to have above 3000 attendees. Kindly note that it is expected that you are to cover all the expenses related to the Congress attendance. We will be delighted to assist you at any stage to ensure your presence at ECP2019.

We are looking forward to your collaboration in making ECP2019 one of the beneficial psychology conferences. Together, we hope to build a better future for humanity.

With best wishes,

Prof. Yuriy Zinchenko,
President,
Russian Psychological Society
